

ROP ANIMAL HEALTH

Course Subjects:

- Careers
- Health and Safety
- Medical Terminology
- Anatomy and Physiology
- Vaccination Protocols
- Physical Examinations
- Animal Restraint
- Surgical Preparation
- Anesthesia and Radiology
- Animal Welfare
- Human/Animal Bond
- Office Procedures
- Job Seeking Skills

ROP Animal Health is an advanced agriculture course designed to give students highly individualized instruction in various areas of the animal health industry. The course combines classroom instruction with practical on-the-job training. Students will receive instruction in the areas of animal health, careers, and leadership. Job specific training is utilized through the operation of community classrooms targeted to match occupational competencies for the job.

Students may choose to earn the Certified Veterinary Assistant Certification

Sign up with your counselor or contact the Central Sierra Regional Occupational Program
4675 Missouri Flat Road, Placerville, CA 95667
(530) 622-5081, ext. 7239